DISTRICT 44 BOARD TO MEET MONDAY

The board of directors of Maine School Administrative District No. 44 will hold a regular meeting at Telstar Regional High School at 7:30 next Monday evening, Jan. 3.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO MEET

The Bethel Historical Society will hold a regular meeting on Thursday, Jan. 6, at 7:30 p. m. at the Casco Bank Community Room.

ALIENS MUST REPORT ADDRESSES IN JANUARY

Arthur A. Poulin, Jr., District Director of the Maine District, United States Immigration and Naturalization Service, stated that the annual alien address report program usually causes a sharp rise in the number of applications for naturalization.

The Immigration and Nationality Act requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions to report their addresses each January. Throughout the United States, almost 30 percent more applications for naturalization are received during the months of January, February, and March than are received during other months. Mr. Poulin attributes this sudden rise to the Alien Address Report Program.

Aliens not required to make this report are diplomats and those accredited to certain international organizations.

Forms for making the reports will be available to aliens at all Post Offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January. Mr. Poulin indicated that aliens desiring information concerning naturalization, or similar matters, may obtain the necessary forms or information at an office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service where personnel trained in these fields are available to answer inquiries.

At this time all aliens in the United States, as well as any prospective employer of an alien who is in the United States, are also placed on notice that the issuance of a Social Security Account Card to an alien is not evidence of legal permission from the Government for the alien to be employed in the United States. As a general rule, only those aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence lawfully

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Budget Committee meetings for 1972 will commence next Wednesday night. We plan on meetings each week until the recommendations are complete.

Anyone having anything in mind that will require an article in the warrant should present it soon. We like to have the complete warrant printed in the town report. Although we do not have to have these articles until time to post the official warrant it does give much wider circulation if everything to be voted on is included in the annual report.

At the present, we do not know what the State Revenue Sharing law will provide in the way of funds to the town. We will have to assume the impact will not cause a great difference in the property tax. We should receive more information before the Budget Committee finishes its work.

A preliminary study does not indicate any large overall increase in appropriations. Any increase will come from a reduction in the amount to be drawn from surplus.

Elwyn N. Dickey

resident immigrants) may work in the United States. However, certain aliens who have been admitted for a temporary stay in the United States (non-immigrants), but who in unusual situations have received written permission from the Immigration and Naturalization Service, may accept employment in the United States.

Any other alien working in the United States in violation of law is subject to certain penalties established by the Immigration and Nationality Act, including required departure from the United States.

Therefore, any alien, employer of aliens, or prospective employer of aliens, having questions concerning the legal right of aliens to be employed in the United States should consult with the nearest office of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service.

A New Year's Mass will be celebrated at Our Lady of the Snows Church at 7:30 Friday evening. The WSCS of the Bethel Methodist Church will meet Thursday afternoon, Jan. 6, at the home of Adeline Dexter.

WINTER SKI TRIPS MORE HAZARDOUS THAN SKIING

"Whoever said that 'getting there is half the fun' never drove through a blinding snow storm or inched his way up an icy mountain to go skiing," says Ross G. Wilcox, Executive Secretary of the Safe Winter Driving League.

Unfortunately, that beautiful white stuff that makes skiing possible can make driving virtually impossible. Many a ski trip has been utterly ruined by miserable driving conditions, or worse yet, by a traffic accident enroute," he said. "Traffic tie-ups and skid wrecks can make the most ardent skier wish he'd stayed home."

He pointed out that few skiers are deterred by bad weather. Once a trip has been planned, the real ski buff is going ahead, the more snow the better! So the only sensible answer lies in advance trip preparation, making sure your car is ready for the worst that winter may have to offer. This means more than the usual "winterizing" and tune-up. It means paying special attention to your vehicle's traction equipment—tires, snow tires and tire chains—and emergency equipment.

"At the very least," said Wilcox, "be sure your tires have good treads. Good treads are important at any time of year, but especially when driving on snow and ice. Better yet, for pulling through snow, conventional snow tires offer a substantial improvement, although they are of little or no help in stopping on glare ice, according to tests by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards. Studded snow tires, on the other hand, improve both stopping and pulling ability on glare ice, particularly when used on all four wheels."

For the ultimate in winter traction, the Council's tests have shown that reinforced tire chains far outperform anything else. They provide from four to seven times the pulling ability of regular tires for climbing icy grades or pulling through deep snow. So even though you use snow tires or studs, it's a good precaution to take the tire chains along.

Finally, he recommended giving

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO OPEN BIDS FOR BETHEL PROJECT, JAN. 26

Bids will be opened by the State Highway Commission on January 26 for a project in Bethel.

The project fills a gap on U. S. Route 2 between improved sections of highway. Construction will extend from one-half mile north of the Androscoggin River Bridge northerly to three-tenths mile north of the junction of Sunday River Road, a distance of nearly 2.4 miles. The north end of the project is at an SHU rest area.

To improve visibility along the section, the contract calls for straightening a series of curves in the existing road, improving the grades and leveling the humps and dips. About midway a truck lane will be constructed to service south-bound traffic. The intersection at Sunday River Road will be channelized.

The new highway will have a 24-foot wide bituminous concrete pavement and eight-foot bituminous treated gravel shoulders in the rural areas; in the vicinity of residences there will be the same width of pavement flanked by 10-foot paved shoulders with curbing.

CHURCH YOUTH GROUPS TO CONDUCT FUND DRIVE FOR CEREBRAL PALSY

The youth groups of the Congregational, Nazarene and Methodist Churches of Bethel will conduct a fund raising drive for Mid-State United Cerebral Palsy Inc., August 1, Jan. 1 through Jan. 9, 1972.

The drive will be on a house-to-house basis and official cerebral palsy coin canisters will be used.

the trunk a "safety check" before heading for the slopes. "Be prepared for an emergency situation that could develop. Your check list of emergency items should include a shovel, a bucket of sand or rock-salt, a tow chain, blankets, battery booster cables, tire chains, flares and emergency lighting equipment with fresh batteries.

"Good equipment combined with common-sense driving can help skiers to get their thrills on the slopes instead of the highways," Wilcox concluded.

— Mrs. Ralph Kimball, Carver. —
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meaux and two children of Winslow were week end visitors of her parents, the Earlon Kenistons. Jeffrey stayed up to spend his vacation with his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ault of Augusta were Christmas Day and night guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Doyen. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ault of Auburn were also recent callers there. Mr. and Mrs. Marsters York of Williamstown, Vt., were luncheon guests of the Doyens on Tuesday on their way from visiting relatives in Winthrop over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Adams and Derek of Hanover, Mr. and Mrs. David Salway and children, Miss Ethel Kimball of Cambridge, Mass., spent Christmas Day with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kimball and Sylvia. Other callers have been Steve Bean, Mrs. John Bowes and Gertrude Waldron, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorman, their own trash.

Tuckerman Ravine, in the White Mountain National Forest, will continue to have limits on the number of people who can stay overnight. However, there will be some modification in camping regulations in the adjacent Huntington Ravine area, according to Robert R. Tyrrel, Forest Supervisor.

"Last March we initiated the camping and fire restrictions in order to halt the environmental damage caused by too many people. Cooperation by the public was excellent, and by the end of the summer we could see many signs of recovery," reported Tyrrel.

The modifications include:
1. In the Huntington Ravine area, the Harvard Cabin, with 17 sleeping spaces available, will be open to the hiking and climbing public.
2. Twelve tent sites adjacent to the Harvard Cabin will be available during the ice-climbing season, normally the mid-winter months, when there is at least two feet of snow on the ground. The twelve-site limit maximum was established on the basis of existing sanitary facilities. These spaces will be available on a first-come, first serve basis with registration at the Appalachian Mountain Club's Pinkham Notch Hut.

The decision to allow limited camping in Huntington Ravine was made primarily for safety reasons. The requirements for a snow cover is to protect fragile soil conditions in the camping area.

Other restrictions placed in effect last year will remain unchanged.
1. In Tuckerman Ravine, over night camping is limited to the 99 spaces available in the Adirondack-type shelters. These spaces are available by a special permit issued by the Appalachian Mountain Club. No one is permitted to stay longer than seven days at a time. A fee of $1.50 per night is charged for camping in the Tuckerman Shelters.

2. Wood or charcoal fires are not allowed in either Tuckerman or Huntington Ravines, which means that people desiring to cook must bring in their own stove.
3. Visitors to Tuckerman or Huntington are asked to carry but

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Brown, Mrs. William Bancroft, Mrs. Paul Hake and baby, and Clarence Kimball.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lapham and boys spent Christmas Day with Mrs. Marion Arsenault and family in Norway. Little Timmie Lapham has been ill with tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. David Salway and children and Ralph Kimball have been quite ill all this week with the flu.

Robert Lincoln's family of Hingham, Mass., are spending this week of vacation at his mother's home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kimball were Tuesday supper guests of the William Bancrofts.

Two of her grandchildren from Gorham, N. H., are spending some of her vacation with their grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morse and little son were recent visitors of the Howard Laphams. Callers on Byron Lapham Tuesday were Danny Kennagh and Bobby Stevens.

For daytime skiers, hikers, and climbers not staying overnight, there have been no special restrictions established to limit use. The Forest Service Snow Rangers will still close all or part of the area at times when avalanches or falling ice hazards exist.

Questions or comments on the operation of Tuckerman or Huntington Ravine areas should be directed to the District Ranger, Androscoggin Ranger District, Gorham, N. H.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES
The last meeting for 1971 of the Mundt-Allen Post No. 81 was held Tuesday night at the Legion Home.

Commander Myers opened the meeting at 8 p. m. and there were a good number of officers and members present.

The New Year's Eve Dance Party was discussed and the reports were very favorable. It was mentioned that hot dogs, hamburgers, coffee, etc., might be donated instead of sold—depending on the attendance. Favors, refreshments and other surprises will be donated anyway.

It was voted to pay Maynard Morgan for plowing snow. Adjutant Maurice Bouchard reported that there were 116 members paid up for 1972—exceeding the Department quota by two. Commander Myers has received an award for 100% membership and the Post will receive a citation for exceeding their quota.

The Post has contacted the town and the Bethel Water District to extend the water pipeline to the Post Home, as the spring is inadequate, where there is any activity involving any sizeable group of people. Also, the Post wants to run record hops and other similar activities for the young people in and around Bethel and the present water supply would not be adequate.

The game party will be held tonight (Thursday, Dec. 30) and one of the workers will be Don Feeney and any other that does not have the flu.

It was reported that Arnel Brown's father died on Christmas Day. The kitchen and Auxiliary Room are in the process of being remodeled and renovated.

Charles Farrar was commended for the fine work and time he has been donating for the game parties and handling reservations for other activities.

It was reported that Burnham Rice is now home from Togus and that the Post paid his dues for 1972.

The new floor cleaner-washer-polisher, donated by Edmond Vachon is working well and being put into good use, and is very much appreciated.

The next meeting of the Oxford County Council will be Jan. 18, 1972, at Post No. 151 in West Paris.

The next Post meeting will be Jan. 10, 1972.
Help will be needed at the hall Friday and again on Saturday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:
I would like to contribute a word of praise and appreciation to our SAD 44 school bus drivers. Having children and being a truck driver, I have seen a lot of their activities. They are concerned about children getting off at unfamiliar sites to visit friends or because "Mama said I could get off here."

Women drivers, always subject to ridicule by all, amaze me with their consideration by hauling over between stops to let traffic by. Meeting a stopped bus with a sluggish, loaded, pulp truck requires considerable effort and swearing. They must realize this as they haul over and wave trucks by. Thank you bus drivers for your efforts under unfavorable weather conditions with our noisy, devilish, but precious children.

Bobby Blake

Editor:
The Bethel Main Street merchants deserve a word of praise for their Christmas decorations. What an interesting display of individual effort and ability. I feel this is just another example of democracy in action. Surely the total hours of labor to put up these lights was greater than when done in past holiday seasons. As so often happens in our democracy—the final result by cooperative individuals far surpassed previous efforts.

December 23, 1971
To the Editor of the Bethel Citizen:
The December 16 issue of your newspaper contained two letters by Mrs. Noyl, who in recent years has been one of your more prolific correspondents. The first, a comparatively short one seeks to demolish the stereotype of the Maine native as taciturn and cold. In the process however, she somehow drags in "our flower children, smiling and courteous and helpful" and for reasons wholly inexplicable to me "Women's Lib." It is somewhat anachronistic and foggy to equate even by reference the non-talkative, hard bitten and self reliant native of Maine with flower children and Women's Lib. It is difficult to conceive of any spiritual bond or mutuality of interest that can effectively bring these three groups within the confines of one letter to the complete satisfaction of any of them. Mrs.

are in the process of being remodeled and renovated.

Charles Farrar was commended for the fine work and time he has been donating for the game parties and handling reservations for other activities.

It was reported that Burnham Rice is now home from Togus and that the Post paid his dues for 1972.

The new floor cleaner-washer-polisher, donated by Edmond Vachon is working well and being put into good use, and is very much appreciated.

The next meeting of the Oxford County Council will be Jan. 18, 1972, at Post No. 151 in West Paris.

The next Post meeting will be Jan. 10, 1972.

BETHEL UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
MONDAY, JAN. 3 7:30 P. M.

Noyl hardly succeeds despite valiant efforts.
Her second epistolary effort is characterized by more puzzling and even amusing non-sequiturs objectively and impliedly expressed by her. I have a somewhat vague recollection of the letter that young Mr. Trinward and his friend sent to you and now the subject of Mrs. Noyl's concern. The burden of their complaint I recall was that the students at Telstar and the Bethel public failed to give ample support to the herculean efforts of an apparently untired and inexperienced football team and its new coach for both of which he expressed enthusiastic support and pride. This seemed to me to be a normal expression of opinion by two former Telstar students who wished to express their appreciation for the effort expended by the team and its coach albeit in a losing cause.

Little did they dream however that the mention in their letter of "grass or black top in our driveways" as "trivia" would lead to an accusative assault that they failed to realize "the trivia are the two crucial problems of mankind—the age old problem of the right education for its young, and now the destruction of the environment." Of course, Mrs. Noyl has well earned the reputation of being the most persistent environmentalist in the Bethel area. I am reasonably certain that young Mr. Trinward and his friend are even more surprised than I am to find themselves the subjects of a dissertation on the crucial problems of mankind only because they suggested we ought to get behind the team.

They even became involved in the "semi-private life of Swinger Joe Namath" and the locker room exposures of ex jock (sic) authors as Jim Bouton and Dave Meggsesey, professional athletes.

As if that were not enough, they are lectured on the findings of two California psychologists on the subject of sports whose value the afore-said psychologists find "not valid."

To cap it all they are informed that the myth that "... wars may have been won on the playing field," needs debunking; "wars do not require gentleness and nobility." I do not recall that either Mr. Trinward or his friend ever suggested in their letter that wars are won on the playing field or require nobility of character let alone gentleness. Why tax them with it?

I venture to suggest that young Mr. Trinward and his friend are appalled at the many areas of erudition which their simple letter evoked. Perhaps they will agree with me that Mrs. Noyl's reply is hardly a cogent solution to their expressed opinion that the Telstar football team deserves more support.

It is little wonder that so many teenagers look upon us, their elders as inhabitants of another planet, and completely dissociated from life's realities. What else can they think when the casual mention of "grass or blacktop in our driveways" as "trivia" produces a long rambling dissertation that hasn't the slightest relationship to the intent or content of their letter in your newspaper?

May I take this occasion to congratulate Mr. Trinward on the excellent scholastic records that he achieved at Telstar and to urge him above all to retain his sense of humor.

Don't sneer at the man who is down today . . . unless you have felt the blow that caused his fall, or felt the pain that only the fallen know. You may be strong, but still the blows that were his, if dealt to you in the selfsame way at the selfsame time . . . might cause you to stagger too.

Don't be too hard on the man who sins, or pelt him with words or a stone, unless you are sure, yes, doubly sure, that you have not sins of your own. For you know perhaps if the tempters voice . . . should whisper as soft to you as it did to him when he went astray, 'twould cause you to falter too. — Author Unknown

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Collette Morgan, Corres. —
Today arrived all filled with smiles and sunshine. The pond looked like a vast mirror swept clean by the strong wind of the day previous. So I decided to visit the far shore. I ventured cautiously on to the surface for I was wondering if it were ice or a crust. With each footstep there was a crack and a crumble which left a wheel shaped indentation with its many spokes. It was easy walking so I continued. Occasionally I came to a hard surface where the snow was heaped in waves so like those of summer; a spot held firm and hard against the winds.

In the shade of the far shore it was crisp cool but in the bright sunlight remarkably warm for a December Day.
Everywhere the effects of winter could be seen: withered grasses, brown and crisp white shingled rocks and now and then skating leaves with hands tightly clasped. Winter music in the sighing of the reeds was all about, bell like as bare fingers moved to and fro like a harpist touching waiting strings. These small chimes were replacing the summer notes now still.

Soon I was down pond far enough to look in upon the waterfall in its icy stillness. It seemed to be waiting to be released so that it could again plunge headlong from its height where the bare rocks cling. Here always the diamond drops shimmer down into a pool of shadows always whispering secrets; just another part of the glory of America.

In places the tree trunks cast blue shadows on the sparkling snow and the sun turned it to a kaleidoscope of color that made diamonds seem dingy.
The sky was a harmony of universal blue, bordered by a surf rim of snowiest blue-white.

Above the shore line the ranked spruce stood thick and hardy with white birches showing between them.

Bright eyed squirrels added a spontaneity to the dipping arms of the trees. A giant white pine gave forth a resinous scent in the warm sun, thin needles shimmering.

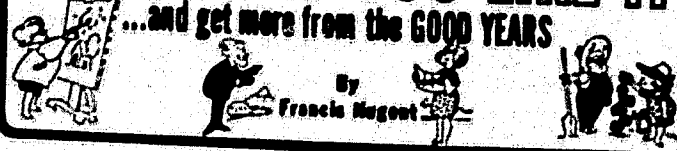

I continued to the very end of the pond then turned to start back, this time keeping to the center of the pond. I faced the mountains of the north. High above them a jet was making its trail across the sky. Then as I listened for the boom of the first a second one appeared and crossed the path of the first.

Every dent beneath my feet was filled with snow stars. Now and then came the sound of faulting; starting faint in the distance and increasing as it approached then losing itself as it reached the shore. It carried an awesome fullness of sound, hard to describe.

I walked on toward the open landscape absorbed in new pictures. The shapes of the familiar trees had individuality. The elms for instance have uppouring branches at steep angles, the willows deep, thick, and fast growing, and the apple tree reaches grotesquely skyward, but is the friendliest of all.

All are wonders and marvelous

LIVING- AS YOU LIKE IT

Some people believe that retirement marks the end of productive working days, the loss of opportunity to earn money, to do something worthwhile. Nothing could be further from the truth. Retirement is a time of change. But, everyone should retire from something with the idea that he is moving on to something else. Careful planning makes the transition easier. Sometimes it takes a little time and some adjustments must be made, but it usually works out.
The truth is also that some individuals find more success in retirement than they knew during their working years. Take, for example, the case history of a skilled craftsman who had worked for building and remodeling contractors for almost thirty years. When his employers decided he was too old, he began doing small jobs as an independent, eventually became a successful contractor himself. He had always wanted to be on his own, but hesitated to give up the security of steady employment. Retirement forced him into a decision he had wanted to make for some time. He now has people working for him, spends less time supervising than the hours he put in which working for someone else. You can find similar retirement success stories in other fields. You can probably engineer one of your own.

Inventions for they operate continuously yet silently and efficiently. While musing upon such intriguing things I reached home.

As the afternoon ended the air cooled darkness fell, gentleness disappeared and a frown replaced the smiles.

The old year ends and as we are on the threshold of another, let us renew our faith in mankind.
May the days which lie ahead bear fruits of happiness for each one.

"The old year slips into its silver silence,
Within our hearts we whisper our good-bye.
For it has held some treasure for us all,
Some tears, bright hope, gay laughter or a sigh,
The heart will long remember these lost hours,
Lift up your eyes to greet the coming morn,
Though precious are our memory's pressed flowers,
The New Year comes with hope and faith and song."

How much interest have you lost on your savings in the past year?

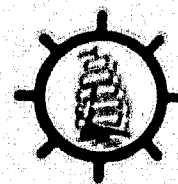

With many savings accounts, as you perhaps know, you have to remember when the interest is paid, what months, how many times a year, or else you can lose out on some interest by making a withdrawal at the wrong time.

Even when you remember, waiting for the right time can be inconvenient.

That's why Casco has introduced DAY-IN / DAY-OUT savings.

With this new account you never lose even a day's interest because Casco pays you interest on every dollar you have in the bank for every day you have it in there — from the day you put it in to the day you take it out. And every dollar earns 4½%, the legal maximum interest Casco is allowed to pay on this account. Other Casco savings plans pay up to 5¾%, but notice of withdrawal is required.

Present Casco savings customers interested in this new service must apply — conversion from regular passbook savings is not automatic.

We have had the coldest weather of the season during the past week, also two rainstorms, very high winds and some sunny calm weather.

On Saturday the electricity was off for about seven hours.

An unusually small attendance at church on Christmas eve participated in the program directed by Arline Bernier and Larry Wade. Santa arrived on time, but must have been a bit harried, because he burst in with a loud and cheery "Happy New Year, everybody!"

The Colon Fullers had their family celebration early when their daughter, Beverly, and family were visiting. Elsie has been ill with flu for several days.

INSTRUCTOR TRAINING COURSE FOR AMBULANCE ATTENDANTS AT BANGOR JAN. 31 TO FEB. 4

Maine licensed ambulance attendants are being offered an Instructor Training Course at the University of Maine in Bangor Jan. 31 to Feb. 4, 1972, by the Division of Emergency Medical Services, Maine Department of Health and Welfare.

Qualified attendants are urged to apply promptly since the course is limited to 25 students. Individuals must be over 21; graduates of an approved hospital-based program in the State of Maine or an AAOCS course on Emergency Care and Transportation of the Sick and the Injured; and a graduate of a Maine Extrication and Casualty Handling Course.

The five day course in Extrication and Casualty Handling will consist of two days of methods and technique instruction and three days of extrication techniques. Participants in the course will be furnished with free housing and meals.

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, graduates will be certified as Extrication and Casualty Handling Instructors. They will be required to attend refresher courses periodically, and to give a minimum of one course per year in their region.

Applications are now being received by the Division of Emergency Medical Services in Augusta.

IRS SAYS BASE PRICES MUST BE POSTED BEFORE JANUARY 2

Whitney L. Wheeler, District Director of Internal Revenue, warned all retailers in Maine this week that price commission regulations require them to post their base prices before Jan. 2, 1972. Under these regulations, every retailer must display its base prices prominently in each department in its place of business making this information openly available to the public.

Those items for which base prices must be posted are determined by the retailers' total sales in this last fiscal year: less than $100,000. -- Those items that had the largest dollar sales volume during their last fiscal year, or those items that accounted for at least 50 percent of total dollar sales during that year, whichever is less. These retailers may consider themselves as a single department for the purpose of the base prices posting requirement.

More than $100,000--those 40 items in each department that had the highest sales during the last fiscal year, or those items that accounted for at least 50 percent of total dollar sales in each department during that year, whichever is less. In addition, these retailers must post base prices on all of their food products which are not exempt from price regulations. The important point for retailers to remember, Mr. Wheeler said, is that base prices must be posted prominently in each department where the items for sale are displayed. Prices are not considered to be displayed "prominently" if a shopper can obtain access only through requesting base price information from the retailer or one of his employees.
